

CALL FOR ENTRIES

UN Decade of Education for Sustainable Development Secretariat presents:

Learning Today to Change Tomorrow

Video Clip Competition

Submission deadline: July 28, 2010

The United Nations Decade of Education for Sustainable Development (DESD) Secretariat is launching a video clip competition open to people of all ages and backgrounds worldwide. The winner will receive a Sony HDR-CX-116 Camescope Full HD with flash memory, generously donated by Sony France; finalists will have their video featured on UNESCO's DESD website.

Education for sustainable development means using education as a tool to achieve sustainability and create a better world. This can mean different things to different people; it can mean your favorite teacher who started a community garden in school, a pastor whose sermons inspire you to work for a greener future, or a member of your community who advocates for gender equality and literacy. Whatever your vision may be, we want you to share it with us!

Submissions of a short video clip (30 seconds to 1 minute and a half max) on education for sustainable development in English, French, or Spanish in .wmv or .avi format, captured by a digital camera, portable phone, or camcorder will be accepted until July 28 2010. Simply save your video in a zip-file and send to a.gonzalez-oliver@unesco.org via "File Depot": <http://www.unesco.org/tools/filedepot>

For more information on the Video Clip Competition

Visit: www.unesco.org/education/desd

Or email: a.gonzalez-oliver@unesco.org